WEDNESDAY, JUNE 9, 1875.

MARRIED FLIRTS.

THE METHODS AND DEPRAVITY OF THE MALE MARRIED FLIRT, AND A CHARITABLE EXPLANATION OF THE CONDUCT OF THE FEMALE DITTO.—A CAUTION TO YOUNG GIRLS TO BEWARE OF THE MONSTER.

Bad as is the married woman flirt, I think the married man has yet far more to answer for. Byron's lines—

"Man's love is of man's life a thing apart,
'Tis woman's whole existence"—

shows us that love-making forms but the merest item in man's long life, yet comprises all the thoughts, and dreams, and entire time of a woman. This is the fact which clearly proves that victims of the latter class call for great sympathy. What perfect faith we have in the uprightness, and honor, and chivalry of man, until the married flirt comes and destroys the old fashioned belief, even as a child would blow away a thistle-down. He chooses as the pastime of his leisure hour some bright young girl, not wanting in charms sufficient to attract many a more honest man. The foolish thing, at first flattered by the attentions of one older, and, as she supposes, wiser than herself, naturally neglects many a true and sincere aspirant to her affections, who is a trifle diffident perhaps, because so much in earnest, in order to please the ever ready and charming married schemer. Time passes, the girl is bewitched by tender tones and gentle reverence, by a thousand little acts denoting admiration and affection, which never fail to please, particularly when proffered by one she herself has hitherto looked up to, and her whole heart goes out in love to him who can give no lawful return. And the man? Words and actions he would never have dared to utter and perform, were he free and unfettered, he now unhesitatingly indulges in, knowing his marriage is his defence, and that nothing can be expected from him. The strong, brave, chivalrous man, bound to protect every weaker, frailer thing, is now himself protected, by what? By the knowledge that pride and fear for herself, will be his sure safety, and that the hopeless disgrace and scorn, which is all she can expect if her infatuation becomes known, is the assurance he may safely trust to, to cover all the evil pleasure and amusement he may now quietly prosecute during the spare moments when his office, his clients, or his church, do no call for his time or attention. Should a proposal in every way suitable and proper now come to the woman in such circumstances, many a one would hesitate to perjure herself before God's altar, and, dismissing the chance of position and honor before the world, remain faithful to the wretched love which can give her nothing in return; or else she accepts the hand of the man who offers all he has to give, and defrauds him of what he has a right to look for in return, an honest, loving heart. In either case it is the married flirt who has blasted her existence, to say nothing of the part in life to which he has doomed that other woman whom, before God, he had vowed to love and cherish.

As for married women, when they can so far forget their own dignity as to purposely lead on and encourage men, exciting feelings which self-respect equally with marriage vows make it utterly impossible for them to return, I think there are few terms too strong to apply to them; but at the same time I am convinced that the term flirt is often more unjustly applied to women who, strong in the faith that they are honored and trusted by their husbands, strive simply by the force of natural instinct to please and be agreeable to all around them. Take a woman who knows and feels that she is appreciated and admired, is thought bright, amusing, and even witty, and, ten to one, she will actually become for the time at least, all these three. Like a flower which in full sunshine, with care and attention blooms brightly, expands, and gives forth its delicate sweetness, so I think a woman perfectly confident and assured of affection and admiration, will charm and please much more than one doubtful of her own powers. The careless looker on, or the cynic, will cavil and object to every little winning way, or charming manner, attributing to the woman an evil motive rather than the simple fact that, happy herself, she is striving to give harmless pleasure to others. Believe me, the agreeable, attractive women who draw admirers around them as naturally as the sweetest flowers draw honey bees, those women who, because so surrounded, are almost universally pronounced flirts, in reality seldom deserve the name. That such do not exist, however, I cannot presume to assert, but they are far fewer than the world would have us believe, and but few victims ever grace their sacrifices. These are left for the cowardly, the unprincipled, criminally selfish married man flirt.—[Ilys, in Boston Courier.

THE DAY.

The last New York legislature passed a law providing that after the year 1878 all taxes levied in that state must be paid in gold, or in paper redeemable in gold on demand, and all contracts for the payment of money made after that year must be paid in gold unless they contain an express stipulation to the contrary.

The superior court of New Hampshire has rendered its decision in the senatorial elections. It is in effect that the court has no right to criticise the action of the governor and council, after it had been accomplished, but there is nothing in the decision to show that Senators Priest and Proctor were legally elected. The seceding Republican senators have taken their seats, the situation is accepted on both sides, and the organization of both legislative branches effected.

THE REV. DR. BALCH

Of the Episcopal church, died at Detroit last Friday, the 4th, where, for the past year he was settled over Grace church. Deceased was for three years at West Point, but left there to prepare for the ministry, studying at Princeton College and the General Theological Seminary of the Episcopal church at New York. During his ministerial career, which was eminently successful, he labored at Philadelphia, New York city, Chester and Westchester counties, Pa., Baltimore, Newport, Bristol, Montreal and at Detroit. An earnest effort was made to elect him bishop of Montreal and metropolitan of Canada. For two years he was president of the Helmuth Boys College, vice president of the Girls' College and governor of the Institution at London, Canada. He was made arch-deacon of Kent, Canon of the cathedral and chaplain to the bishop.

During his life many honors and distinctions were presented for his acceptance, and many memorials of his wonderful work and energetic goodness in the church and out of it were given by grateful people. He was early offered a naval professorship and soon after appointed a commissioner by the American Colonization Society to go to Europe and secure the recognition of Liberia as a republic. He was afterward elected president of St. John's College at Annapolis, Maryland. He received his degree of doctor of divinity from the University of New York and an ad eundem degree from Bishop's College, Lennoxville, Canada, to which institution he was one of the board of visitors.

For thirteen years he was secretary of the American house of bishops, and was clerical secretary of the Montreal diocesan synod. A number of other posts of ecclesiastical distinction were at various periods of his busy life tendered to him, but these he generally refused, preferring to minister quietly in the churches. He considered it his duty to take broad and liberal views. He was the personification of dignified tenderness, a worker of unbounded energy, preaching to his people so long as he could leave his bed; a minister universally beloved and rarely gifted with eloquence of voice and speech, aided much by the manly grace of form and feature.

In Plymouth, New Hampshire, his burial place has been chosen, by his own wish, and he will be interred this afternoon. The simple, ancient church in that place was one in which he delighted to minister during the Summer weeks of his brief vacations, and beneath its shadow he will be buried.

FINANCIAL ASPECTS OF THE GREAT TRIAL.—The New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial has some interesting gossip respecting the manner in which the Beecher people expect to meet the expenses of the trial, which are very heavy on the Beecher side. Beecher's church would meet all the expenses in a moment, if they were ten times greater than they are. It may be taken for granted that Beecher himself will never be allowed to pay a cent. Beecher has had a large income for twenty years, but he has never been able to take care of money, even with the aid of his watchful wife, and it is doubtful if all the property he has in the world, including his Peekskill farm and his Brooklyn house, would bring $50,000. Perhaps a hint on the subject may be got from Porter's speech. Porter spoke of the wealthy friends who had closed around Beecher, and mentioned several of them by name, including the great merchant, Claflin, who (said Porter) was ready to sacrifice half his fortune in defence of his friend Beecher. Now, when it is considered that Claflin is worth over $30,000,000, it is easy to see that it would not take a hundredth part of his fortune to meet all the expenses incurred in behalf of Beecher during the trial. A dozen other men in Beecher's church could be named, each of whom would be ready to put down $50,000 or $100,000 for their pastor at this time. But on the Tilton side there has been a woful lack of means throughout. Tilton himself has little money to his name. By mortgaging his house and things he may have raised a few thousand dollars for his counsel; he has a small income from the publisher of his novel; perhaps one of his friends has helped him to the extent of a couple of thousand dollars, and perhaps one of his lawyers, Mr. Morris, may be out of pocket as much as $3000 for expenses. When Moulton was on the stand he swore that he had not paid anything or promised to pay anything toward the trial or to Tilton's lawyers, and it may be safely affirmed that Moulton is not now likely to spend any money in that way. The Tilton side has been conducted economically, and has, in consequence, lost many advantages. His lawyers have worked well, but they have not the spur that is enjoyed by the Beecher lawyers in their enormous remuneration. It is beyond doubt that Tilton's lawyers have sacrificed a great deal on account of the case, for both Beach and Fullerton are men that have a fat practice.

THE TURF.

FASHION AT JEROME PARK LAST WEEK AND NOBILITY AT THE DERBY.

Late London papers devote full broadsides to glowing descriptions of the Derby. If the presence of royalty and an attendance more than usually distinguished, bright skies and fresh breezes can give extra eclat to the festival then the Derby of 1875 will stand out conspicuous among all its predecessors. The royal party, consisting of the prince and princess of Wales, the duke and duchess of Edinburgh, the Prince and Princess Christian, the Princess Louise and the marquis of Lorne, the duke of Connaught, the duke of Cambridge and a distinguished attendance were on the grounds and had a most enthusiastic reception. A Derby without incident would be a Derby without precedent. If a favorite does not actually break down he goes amiss, meets with an accident or some other misfortune to which racing flesh is heir. This year, however, everything went smoothly, and it was as everybody expected when Galopin was seen coming to the front. The rider had only to sit still on Galopin, and when he dropped his hands the horse went in a very easy winner by a length. There was great and enthusiastic cheering, for, in addition to the horse being a thoroughly public favorite, its owner, Prince Batthyany, is one of the most popular members of what may be called the old school of racing men, and he is one, too, who, throughout an honorable turf career, has not been highly favored by fortune. To win the highest honors of a sportsman's ambition is to such a man more than the rich stakes or the money he may have backed his horse to win. So the cheers when Galopin returned to scale were renewed, and Prince Batthyany was fain to leave by a back door to escape the congratulations of the crowd.

The scenes at the opening of the Jerome park races on Saturday are described as having been exceedingly brilliant and picturesque. The great programme, embracing five races and including many of the most famous racers on the American turf, was sufficient to attract at least 15,000 persons. Every grade of society was represented in the throng. The millionaire came in his drag, the man of independent fortune in his private carriage, and both accompanied by ladies who made the bluff below the club-house radiant with rich, gay toilettes, and bright, happy faces. The veranda of the club-house was filled with the queens of fashion, and the terrace was a parterre of beauty clad in rich colors. Across the track on the quarter stretch and on the grand stand were many more thousands, and there the variety of toilettes and of faces made the scene not less interesting. The only subject of general complaint was the terribly dusty condition of the roads, and the number of splendid toilettes ruined by the dust on the way to the course and back would exceed a milliner's calculations. Those floating particles play the mischief with velvet robes, silk costumes and chip hats, and if Jerome Park is to grow in favor with the women of the metropolis, steps will have to be taken to make it agreeably accessible by the daintiest of the sex in their delicate array. The horses were more than ordinarily good, and though the course was in a dusty condition, the running was not inferior to the usual standard of Jerome Park. But there was so much trouble in starting the horses for each successive race that night was coming on before the programme had been carried out.

THE PAY OF THE UNSKILLED.

There is no conceivable reason why the city should not conduct business like a private individual—paying for unskilled labor only what that labor is fairly worth in the open market. The clamor against the effort of the city authorities to this end is pure demagogism. The wages paid by the city are paid out of the people's pockets. No thinking voter, who pays or expects ever to pay any taxes, will object to the city's getting its work done on as good terms as private individuals.—[Tribune.

The above reads like a truism to most persons; but after all, is this the right way for the government to act towards the unskilled laborers it is compelled to employ? The law of competition obtains throughout nature, and a very cruel law it is. The survival of the fittest in the various conflicts of animal life is accompanied by hideous waste and cruelty, and competition in human society results in wars, disastrous panics, and the abject poverty of the masses. But is this really the law which should govern human relations? We are not living in a state of nature, and all organized government, all religion, all associated effort are so many expedients to get rid of the fierce opposition which makes man the enemy of his fellowman. Competition is not known in the family, though, as yet, it does not seem that any other rule can obtain in the business relations of men. But surely in a democratic country, where laborers vote, it will not be possible for public authorities to treat the working classes precisely as they are treated by the private employers. There is something due to humanity, and it is not to be expected that men can bring up families and rear children upon the minimum of wages which obtains in the various competing trades. There must be some figure at which the head of a family can maintain himself and bring up his family decently, and it behooves us to find that figure and treat the unskilled laborer by that rule rather than by the rule of competition. We believe in paying all public servants generously. The head of the nation, the mayor of this city, ought to be paid princely salaries, in order to enable them to maintain the dignity and honor of their station. It accords with the fitness of things that this should be done. But it certainly will not do for a democratic government to cut down the pay of the poorest classes of the community. There ought to be some relation between the money paid and the work done, apart from the state of the market. This problem may seem a difficult one to the champagne drinking democracy, but they will certainly be disciplined on this point in the coming city election. Already there is a revolt among the "short hairs" of Tammany Hall, and this business of cutting down laborers' wages is one of the most unwise of the many unwise things that the Democratic managers have been accomplishing of late.—[New York Graphic.

FASHIONS.

JENNIE JUNE ON NEW YORK STYLES AND LUCY HOOPER ON COSTUMES AT A FRENCH RACE COURSE.

Jennie June's fresh budget of fashion gossip is brimful of seasonable information for the ladies. The only Summer costumes proper, that is simple overdresses, which are displayed now, are in lace, black, white striped with silk or ribbon, but principally ecru (dead buff). These costumes consist invariably of tablier and sleeveless jacket, fastened down the front or back with silk bows, and worn over a silk dress to match. Black, brown or blue, with ecru, are the favorite combinations, and the parasol of the same shade of silk is covered with ecru lace to match. It is in these silk and lace costumes that ladies go to ride in the park in these lovely June days; their chip or Panama hats, with cream colored scarfs, damasked in coral patterns, and with trails of flowers, with background of tinted foliage. But they are not suited to negligée country wear. Simple costumes, however, may be attained by ladies who are living or spending the Summer in the country, without sacrificing taste, and will present a quaint and picturesque diversity of style exceedingly attractive. Muslins, linens, lawns; plain gray, buff, blue or white batiste; Victoria lawns, Madras cottons and the like are in preparation for Summer outfits, made in the following style: Semi-trained skirt, trimmed with two or three knife pleatings, graduated from three to five or five to seven inches, straight or apron overskirt, edged with knife pleating, shirred waist and sleeves, and peasant fichu of black lace, knotted in front, bow of ribbon at the throat, ribbon sash, black or colored, as preferred.

Lucy Hooper tells how the Parisians come out at the races. At the Auteuil steeplechases, which are the most important of the Spring events next to the Grand Prix, there was a show of splendid toiletts and dashing dames in the open vehicles. Hats, handkerchiefs and umbrellas were waved wildly in the air, and some enthusiasts even went so far as to kiss the arching neck and glossy sides of the winning horse. Among the noticeable toilettes was a dress of pale lilac silk, the skirt entirely covered with pleated flounces in three shades of lilac and purple, put on in groups of three each, composed of the deep purple, then the lighter shade and then the lilac. The waist was cuirass shape, of lilac silk, bordered with a narrow pleating of purple. It was cut square in the neck, and with half-short sleeves. Long gloves of a pale lilac hue, a rice-straw bonnet, trimmed with lilac ribbon and a trail of exquisite lilac hyacinths falling from the back on the wearer's neck made up an exquisite costume. The lady wore around her throat a narrow lilac ribbon, and carried one of those large black parasols trimmed with white lace and insertion which are now the rage. Another dress was composed of a brilliant cherry-colored brocaded surah, with sleeves of black silk to the cuirass corsage. Up the back of each sleeve ran two puffs of surah. The front of the skirt was of cherry surah, drawn in puffs and with bands of black silk running up the sides. The train was composed of surah. The hat worn with this dress was of white straw trimmed with white, and decorated with a wreath of white blossoms, their snowy petals dashed with vivid red.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THE PEOPLE WANT PROOF.

There is no medicine prescribed by Physicians, or sold by Druggists, that carries such evidence of its success and superior virtue as Boschee's German Syrup for Severe Coughs, Colds settled on the Breast, Consumption, or any disease of the Throat and Lungs. A proof of that fact is that any person afflicted, can get a Sample Bottle for 10 cents and try its superior effect before buying the regular size at 75 cents. It has lately been introduced in this country from Germany, and its wonderful cures are astonishing everyone that uses it. Three doses will relieve any case. Try it. Sold by James H. Taylor.

The Pace that Kills.

"It is the pace that kills." People who live fast get old rapidly. Nothing wears out the constitution like dissipation and late hours. Hygeia, goddess of health, bitterly revenges herself upon all who break her laws, not alone those who do so wantonly, but even those who are compelled by hard necessity. Constant overwork saps the physical structure with no less certainty, if less rapidly, than dissipated habits. There is, however, an antiseptic which, so far as it is in the power of medicine to retard the wear and tear of the system thus accelerated, achieves that object most successfully. This preservative is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a vitalizing agent without a peer. Premature decay, whether it be the result of inherent weakness, hard work, continuous anxiety, dissipation or disease, is stayed in its withering career, and the exhausted and shattered system powerfully reinforced by this genial restorative.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 9, 1875.

GENERAL NEWS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Final Payment of the Farragut Prize Money.

WASHINGTON, June 8.

The Secretary of the Treasury will shortly issue an order directing the fourth auditor of the Treasury to make another and final payment of the Farragut prize money. This final payment will take about $300,000, and the time occupied in its distribution among the claimants, of which there are more than 4000, will be about eight months. The crews of forty four vessels share in this money. The total sum awarded as prize money was $900,000. Counsel fees, amounting to about $75,000, have been paid to General Butler and Attorney Wilson of this city, who represented the claimants, their fees being deducted for them by the courts. In accordance with a decree of the United States district court of this district the sum of $268,000 was awarded as bounty money. Ninety three thousand dollars of this sum has already been paid, and the balance will be distributed as soon as Congress makes the appropriation therefor. In reference to the distribution of the final instalment of the prize money, it will not be necessary for the claimants who have been paid out of former instalments to make further application. They will be paid on the same claim without being put to further trouble or securing the intervention of agents.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A Strike at Speculation.

ST. LOUIS, June 8.

The millers of this city have joined in a petition to the president and board of directors of the merchants' exchange, asking to have wheat stricken from the list of articles sold at the call of the board. They assert that this kind of speculation produces illegitimate fluctuations, which are ruinous to manufacturers of flour, and will ultimately destroy the trade.

A Righteous Sentence.

BALTIMORE, June 8.

Capt. Frank Moody was, today, sentenced to pay $500 and costs and to be imprisoned three months, for cruelty to his seamen.

The Strike to go on.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., June 8.

The executive board of miners' union, today, resolved, after much debate to continue the strike, and that whichever region, Lehigh or Schuylkill, gave in first, should work and support the other.

Terrible Boiler Explosion.

LEE, June 8.

An explosion of an immense boiler at the mill of the Smith Paper Company occurred here today. The boiler house, a stone building, 50 by 80 feet, was totally demolished, and three boilers, besides the exploded one, weighing from twelve to twenty tons each, were thrown in various directions.

A millwright named Brown, who was making repairs on the premises, was killed outright, nearly the whole of his head being cut off by a mass of bricks. Mrs. Fallon, an operative, was injured so badly that she cannot recover. Mrs. Dempsey had an arm broken by jumping from a window in the mill to escape from the suffocating steam, and a dozen others were more or less injured. The loss to the Smith Paper Company is about $25,000.

SERVED HIM RIGHT.—He was an awfully mean man. He carried a $50 counterfeit bill to make a show of it sometimes when fingering for a little change. His poor, hard-working wife had been begging him for a nice gold chain she had seen in a shop window down town. One day he felt in a merry mood, gave her the counterfeit bill and told her to buy the chain. Then he left home laughing, and he came home feeling full of jokes. It appeared to be the happiest day of his life. He made a fool of the old woman. But the old woman wore that gold chain at the dinner table, and called the brute her "dear old darling." This put another face on the whole affair. It had ceased to be a joke to him. The jeweller called before dinner, and handing him the base note told him to "shell out" fifty dollars if he wished to escape annoyance. He shelled out, and has never been able to see the point of his own joke. But the poor woman enjoyed it.

Lawn Mowers.

LAWN MOWERS,
PHOSPHATES, &c.

The subscriber asks attention to the ARCHIMEDEAN as the Standard Mower on the market. The introduction of just years in using SHOES instead of wheels had given it the reputation of a hard working machine. At my suggestion this was remedied last year by substituting wheels, and my large sales in consequence has established it as the most desirable of all. As a horse machine it has no equal and I can refer to six of our subscribers using them with the confidence of support from them, and so far as I know I sold all that was sold here in 1874. While I make this my standard, I cannot but say patrons shall have their choice, and can give them any other kind in the market, and it should be borne in mind that I prefer the goods I sell by the facilities for repairing, sharpening, &c., making this a specialty. I am offering good second hand mowers from $5 to $15, and so am prepared to supply the entire trade of the Island at as low prices as in other cities, or as any other dealer.
I would urge the advantage of WILSON'S PHOSPHATE, as a top-dressing for lawns (giving a quick, rich green) as a garden or hot house fertilizer, and can warrant that it is not composed largely of lime, gypsum, worth $12 per ton on the market, or plaster, worth $8; none of these will be as highly appreciated for the above purposes as by our farmers who buy it by the ton as an economical manurial investment. Five tons more on hand this day, with bone and other fertilizer constantly in stock. The season is cold and late, worms will be hungry, help the crops and they will you.
CONCORAN'S SELF REGULATING WINDMILL, For Pumping or driving machinery, up to forty horse power. Especial attention is called to this power as superior, and an economical saver of labor, with reference to Col. George E. Waring, Phillip Caswell, Esq., and George P. Lawton, of Newport, using them. It is appropriate for the purposes of pumping for dwellings, barns and green houses, to furnish our coast breezes to mechanical utility while it invigorates our health as well. Please call on us at

THE NEW CHARTER OAK
LAWN MOWER.
It is a model of beauty, very compact, beautifully finished and mechanically made; and, to those desiring a wheel Lawn Mower, we will say that you will find the "CHARTER OAK" far superior to any other of this class of Lawn Mowers, as it is far more durable, easy to adjust, operate, and keep in order, also by its driving wheels being inside of the frames. It enables the operator to cut the grass clean around walks, drives, flower-beds, trees and shrubbery.

We Warrant it in Every Respect.

DOGS.

ANECDOTES OF INTELLIGENT CANINES.—A DOG THAT WAS INTERESTED IN RAILROADS.—A PATH FINDING PUP.

A few feet from me at this moment is a curious specimen of the long backed, short legged German hound yclept a turnspit, who came to the establishment a silent, reserved, even dull being. But on fair encouragement his faculties became developed. He showed signs of a humorous disposition—as though he could relish a jest—and began to utter mysteriously uncouth and cavernous sounds, as though laboring to find an utterance. These began gradually to take the shape of expostulation, angry remonstrance, piteous entreaty, weariness, to say nothing of literal yawns, when he was bored. They are wonderful creatures, even in London, with curious puzzling ways of their own. Thus, lately one dark night, the writer, entering a handsome cab, was duly encased within the glass and shutters. As the vehicle shot off on its course, something white appeared to flash on the footboard in front, which by and by resolved itself into the outline of a grayish white cur dog, who had leaped up in a half professional way, much as the little tigers of another generation used to skip up behind the cabriolet. There this curious creature remained, poising itself at the edge, like some spectral dog, and balancing itself at the edge, like some spectral dog, and balancing itself with ease, as a circus rider would. When the cab stopped, he was gone as suddenly as he came. "Oh! he were there, were he?" the driver merely exclaimed. It turned out that this lean and unkempt pariah had drawn near the cab a few nights before, had received less churlish greeting than what he was accustomed to, and had attached himself to the cab in this mysterious way, and was now actually to be seen hovering in the shadow afar off. There was something ghostly in the fashion in which he came out of the night and appeared upon the footboard. Again, I was once acquainted with a dog that had a no less singular penchant for seeing a train pass under an arch at a particular hour each day. Punctually at 5 o'clock he would rouse himself and set off at full speed to keep his appointment, using cunning devices when he suspected he might be detained. Having seen his train go by, and looked down with a wary and critical air to see that the passage was performed properly, he jogged home with a contented mind. How did he know the hour so exactly? Again. Every morning there comes to the door one of the neatest, lightest, best appointed little traps conceivable, in the service of our butterman. It is drawn by a frisky, waggish little pony, evidently a pet; and on the pony's back rides a vivacious little terrier, who, from practice, can balance himself in a secure and dashing style. Both pony and terrier understand each other, though the terrier capers about the pony's neck in an inconvenient fashion. On cold days pony has his cloth, while terrier has a miniature covering of the same kind, securely fitted to his person. When the butterman comes up the area the sly pair are watching him, and if in his hurry he incautiously slams the back door of his cart, a pretence is made of accepting the noise as a signal, and off starts pony galloping, terrier barking and almost erect on pony's neck, while driver is running along frantically striving to climb into his vehicle as it goes. Another dog, a red Irish retriever, whose acquaintance I made lately, was sent down forty miles into Kent, shut up in a dog-box. On his first day's sport he took offence at the keeper using a whip to him, a freedom he perhaps thought was not justified by so short an acquaintance. The following morning he was at the door of his house in Victoria street! How was this accomplished? He must have come straight across the country, guided by some faculty that his two-legged superiors have not.—[London Society.

We think it no more than right that men should seize time by the forelock, for the rude old fellow, sooner or later, pulls all their hair out.

THREE POINTS FOR CONSIDERATION.

During the past five years the VEGETINE has been steadily working itself into public favor, and those who were at first most incredulous in regard to its merits are now its most ardent friends and supporters.

There are three essential causes for those having such a horror of patent medicines, changing their opinion and lending their influence toward the advancement of VEGETINE. 1st—It is an honestly prepared medicine from barks, roots and herbs. 2d—It honestly accomplishes all that is claimed for it, without leaving any bad effects in the system. 3d—It presents honest vouchers in testimonials from honest, well-known citizens, whose signatures are a sufficient guarantee of their earnestness in the matter. Taking into consideration the vast quantity of medicine brought conspicuously before the public through the flaming advertisements in the newspaper columns, with no proof of merit or genuine vouchers of what it has done, we should be pardoned for manifesting a small degree of pride in presenting the following testimonial from Rev. J. S. DICKERSON, D. D., the popular and ever genial pastor of the South Baptist Church, Boston:

The Tired Body Sues for Sleep.

BOSTON, March 16, 1874.

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ.:

Dear Sir—It is as much from a sense of duty as of gratitude that I write to say that your VEGETINE—even if it is a patent medicine—has been of great help to me when nothing else seemed to avail which I could safely use. Either excessive mental work or unusual care brings upon me a nervous exhaustion that desperately needs sleep, but as desperately defies it. Night after night the poor, tired body sues for sleep until the day-dawn is welcomed back, and we begin our work tired out with an almost fruitless chase after rest. Now I have found that a little VEGETINE taken just before I retire gives me sweet and immediate sleep, and without any of the evil effects of the usual narcotics. I think two things would tend to make brain-workers sleep: 1st—A little less work. 2d—A little more VEGETINE. This prescription has helped me.

Now I have a particular horror of "patent medicine," but I have a greater horror of being afraid to tell the straight out truth. The VEGETINE has helped me, and I own it up.

Yours &c.,
J. S. DICKERSON.

Valuable Evidence.

The following unsolicited testimonial from Rev. O. T. WALKER, D. D., formerly pastor of Bowdoin Square Church, and at present settled in Providence, R. I., must be esteemed as reliable evidence.

No one should fail to observe that this testimonial is the result of two years' experience with the use of VEGETINE in the Rev. Mr. Walker's family, who now pronounces it invaluable.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., 161 Transit Street.

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ.:

I feel bound to express with my signature the high value I place upon your VEGETINE. My family have used it for the last two years. In nervous debility it is invaluable, and I recommend it to all who may need an invigorating, renovating tonic.

O. T. WALKER,
Formerly Pastor of Bowdoin Sq. Church, Boston.

The Best Evidence.

The following letter from Rev. E. S. BEST, pastor M. E. Church, Natick, Mass., will be read with interest by many physicians. Also those suffering from the same disease as afflicted the son of the Rev. E. S. Best. No person can doubt this testimony, and there is no doubt about the curative powers of VEGETINE.

NATICK, Mass., Jan. 1, 1874.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—We have good reason for regarding your VEGETINE a medicine of the greatest value. We feel assured that it has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age; for the last two years he has suffered from necrosis of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so far reduced that nearly all who saw him thought his recovery impossible. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his ever rallying, two of the number declaring that he was beyond the reach of human remedies, that even amputation could not save him, as he had not vigor enough to endure the operation. Just then we commenced giving him VEGETINE, and from that time to the present he has been continuously improving. He has lately resumed his studies, thrown away crutches and cane, and walks about cheerfully and strong.

Though there is still some discharge from the opening where the limb was lanced, we have the fullest confidence that in a little time he will be perfectly cured.

He has taken about three dozen bottles of VEGETINE, but lately uses but little, as he declares that he is too well to be taking medicine.

Respectfully yours,
E. S. BEST.
MRS. L. C. F. BEST.

Reliable Evidence.

178 Baltic Street, BROOKLYN, N. Y., Nov. 14, 1874.

H. R. STEVENS, Esq.:

Dear Sir—From personal benefit received by its use, as well as from personal knowledge of those whose cures thereby have seemed almost miraculous, I can most heartily and sincerely recommend VEGETINE for the complaints for which it is claimed to cure.

JAMES P. LUDLOW,
Late Pastor Calvary Bap. Church, Sacramento, Cal.

STATEMENT OF MR. G. F. RICKETSON OF TIVERTON.

Mr. Editor:—Please state my case in your paper for that such cures can be performed, should be known. Catarrh with all its disagreeable symptoms afflicted me for years and until dyspepsia and indigestion resulted. I was fast running down for I could not eat anything that agreed with me, and I did not know what to do for folks said "Catarrh could not be cured, and you are foolish to throw away your money," &c., but I had to do something and I went to Dr. Carpenter. He cured me, I have been perfectly well the last few months, and have no reason to think, I shall ever have any more trouble of that kind. I want it known for so many persons think Catarrh cannot be cured.

Newport, May 15, 1875.

TESTIMONY OF MRS. JOHN W. DAVIS OF NEWPORT.

My grandson, Burnside, (son of Mr. Benjamin Davis) was sadly afflicted with Catarrh. Besides the annoying and disagreeable symptoms usually accompanying this loathsome disease, his memory was becoming impaired. He paid little attention to what was going on around him, or what was said to him; did not take much interest in anything, and was gradually losing his hearing. We felt that something must be done to save him, and therefore placed him under Dr. Carpenter's treatment, which proved successful and satisfactory. He is restored to health, both mentally and physically, and to use his own words, is "A NEW MADE BOY." We feel it a duty to make the case public, that others may know where they can obtain relief from that dreadful disease.

MRS. JOHN W. DAVIS.
Bay View avenue, April 29th, 1875.

STATEMENT OF MR. G. E. HULL.

This may certify to Dr. Carpenter's success in treating my daughter who had become so deaf from catarrh that we were obliged to speak very loudly to her, to make her hear us. We found that she might become totally deaf, the way she was going on. Dr. C.'s treatment has removed the catarrh and deafness to such an extent, she can now hear a whisper. This case is well known in Jamestown, where we reside.

G. E. HULL.
Newport, April 15th, 1875.

Mr. Arnold's Card.

DR. CARPENTER,—Dear sir: your treatment for chronic catarrh in my case has been successful, although the complaint was of some years standing and had begun to impair my hearing. I think I am perfectly cured and recommend similar sufferers to apply to you. I reside in Jamestown.

F. A. ARNOLD.
NEWPORT, R. I., April 1st, 1875.

Testimony of Captain Hammond of Newport.

W. H. CARPENTER, M. D.,—DEAR SIR:—Allow me to thank you, through the NEWS and JOURNAL, for the great benefits conferred upon me by your treatment for Chronic Catarrh. Five weeks ago, when I consulted you, I was prostrated and nearly worn out with that terrible disease. Under your treatment I began to improve at once, and in two weeks was able to resume my employment, and have continued to improve up to this time.

Yours Sincerely,
J. F. HAMMOND,
No. 5 Brinley street,
Newport, March 18, 1875.

TESTIMONY OF MR. F. M. HAWLEY OF PROVIDENCE.

(From Providence Journal.)

W. H. CARPENTER, M. D.,—Dear Sir: Your treatment of my wife for Chronic Catarrh has been attended with the happiest results, and I deem it a duty as well as a pleasure to tender you our thanks publicly that other sufferers may be induced to apply to you. We believed the disease incurable, and should not have consulted you had not a friend informed us of the success that attended your treatment of her, in a very aggravated case.

Yours, gratefully.
FREDERICK M. HAWLEY,
With J. B. Barnaby & Co., corner North Main and College streets.
Providence, April 6th, 1875.

CERTIFICATE OF MR. JOHN CASWELL.

NEWPORT, R. I., Dec. 19, 1874.

TO THE EDITOR OF NEWS:—I wish to recommend Dr. Carpenter's treatment to such of the community as have Scrofula. I inherited it, and it has always run in my blood, and last Fall it became terrible, injuring my health, and attacking my head and face particularly and so disfigured me that a neighbor that met me did not know me until I spoke to him. I applied to Dr. Carpenter, at the Perry House, and his medicines have met with gratifying success. My health is now good, have very little trouble with the humor, face looks natural, and I hope with a little more treatment, to eradicate the poisonous humor from my system entirely. I reside in Middletown.

JOHN CASWELL.

Catarrh and Polypus.

Home Testimony.

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 6th, 1874.

This is to proclaim what Dr. Carpenter has done for me. I suffered from Catarrh 40 years, and the last 10 years my nasal passages were filled with Polypus. I employed physicians from time to time, and two years ago, went to Boston, and was doctored there three months, and left off worse than I began, and I was almost discouraged. But I felt that I must do something, for I was obliged to keep my mouth open and my health was becoming impaired. So I went to Fall River last Spring, and placed myself under the care of Dr. Carpenter. His treatment proved highly satisfactory. He removed and cured the Polypus, I can breathe naturally, the Catarrh troubles me very little and altogether I am comfortable and as well as a man 60 years of age, can expect to be, and I hope this testimony may be the means of securing relief to other sufferers. I reside in Middletown.

ASA PECKHAM.

Permanent Cures to Scrofulous Catarrh.

Testimony of a Citizen of Newport.

My son and daughter were sufferers from Scrofulous Catarrh from birth, and with discharges, swellings upon their necks; and an utter inability to breathe through the nose, they were uncomfortable enough, when we placed them under the care of Dr. Carpenter in 1865. His remedies cured them in a few months and they remain well to this day. I publish this with the hope it may be the means of securing relief to others.

S. B. BREWSTER.

A CARD FROM

Mr. John Beattie Jr.

(From Fall River News.)

FALL RIVER, Jan. 29, 1874.

W. H. CARPENTER, M. D.,—My Dear Sir:—Allow me thus publicly to express my gratitude for the great benefit conferred upon me by your treatment. I was afflicted for years with Catarrh which had become a constant torment to me, the irritation and inflammation having increased until ulceration was the consequence. Your treatment has been attended with the happiest results. I am now comfortable, my head feels well, and I believe myself cured of that terrible disease.
